BCNAA President Sheryl Good Challenges The Association to Chart a New Course

Greetings Alumni!

Wow, what a difference a day makes! Well, really 1 year, 8 months, and 14 days. But who is counting.

We have accomplished a lot during the past year and a half that should make everyone proud (I will share an accomplishments report with you during the Annual Meeting.) But we cannot rest on our laurels. Although it is summer and many people are vacationing, many of our committees are still hard at work. Throughout this newsletter, you will read about the things that are happening from our Executive Committee and our local clubs across the country to help further our mission in support of our alma mater. Let's continue to support them and applaud them for their efforts.

We are experiencing history in the making. I am a proud supporter of Barack Obama, not just because of his skin color, but because of his philosophy, his character, and his commitment to making this country and this world a better place to live in. In his remarks at the final Democratic primary on June 3 in St. Paul, Minnesota, Senator Obama said,

We owe our children a better future. We owe our country a better future. And for all those who dream of that future tonight, I say - let us begin the work together. Let us unite in common effort to chart a new course for America.

To borrow from his phraseology, Benedict alumni, we owe the students, our future alumni, a better future. We owe our alma mater a better future. And for all those who dream of that future, I say - let us begin to set aside our differences, our dislikes, our disagreements, our biases, our prejudices, our favoritisms, and predispositions, our unfairness, and any other ism that will prevent us from making Benedict College and the BCNAA the best that it can be. Let us unite in common effort to chart a new course for the BCNAA and for our College.

I look forward to seeing you in Columbia.

Faithful We Forever,

Sheryl L. Good
