MISSION STATEMENT

These programs will provide our students and community with the knowledge, skills, understandings, and values required to empower them to be powers for good in society to create a better world.

We seek geographic, international, and racial diversity in our student body while continuing to facilitate the empowerment, enhancement, and full participation of African Americans in a global society and to maintain our historic affiliation with the Baptist Church.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF BENEDICT

Benedict College, originally Benedict Institute, was founded in 1870 under the auspices of the American Baptist Home Mission Society. Mrs. Bathsheba A. Benedict of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, provided financial support for the establishment of Benedict. Adding to a small bequest from her husband, Mrs. Benedict provided $13,000 towards the purchase of an eighty-acre plantation near Columbia, South Carolina, as the site for a new school for the recently emancipated people of African descent.

Benedict Institute set out from humble beginnings in a dilapidated former slave master's mansion to prepare men and women to be "powers for good in society."

During the first quarter century of its existence, Benedict Institute's educational program addressed the severely limited economic and social conditions of the black population in the South. The Institute's original objective was to train teachers and preachers.

On November 2, 1894, the institution was chartered as a liberal arts college by the South Carolina Legislature and the name "Benedict Institute" was changed to "Benedict College." From 1870 to 1930, Benedict College was led by seven northern white Baptist ministers, all college trained. On April 10, 1930, the Reverend John J. Starks, who earned his bachelor's degree from the College in 1891, became the first African American President of the College. Five African American presidents have succeeded him.

Maintaining a liberal arts tradition, Benedict College now offers degree programs in twenty-four major areas of study to meet the needs of a complex and technological society at home and world-wide as the twenty-first century sets new parameters for our students and graduates.

The College is currently undergoing an extensive campus improvement plan, which includes land acquisition and the completion of a comprehensive athletics complex which includes the Charlie W. Johnson Stadium. Campus facilities improvements since 2000: the installation of air-conditioning, fire sprinkler systems, and security systems in residence halls; completion of an activities field and community park; renovation of Bacoats Hall, Alumni Hall, Starks Center, and historic Antisdel Chapel; and restoration of historic Morgan, Pratt, and Starks Halls, the latter of which houses the Student Leadership Development Center. During this period, new construction has included three residence halls, a parking garage, a campus center/dining hall, an Administration Building, a Business Development Center, and perimeter fencing. Additionally, buildings were acquired to house a fitness center, the Division of Community Development/Center for Excellence, the Child Development Center, the Visitor's Center/Admissions Office, and the Lamar Building which is used to house the Continuing Education/Evening and Weekend Program. Three apartment complexes have been purchased for student housing. The College is celebrating 151 years of providing quality education to its students and meritorious service to this community. Across the years, more than 17,000 graduates of Benedict College have succeeded in all areas of human endeavor.

Benedict College is a place where “Learning to Be the Best: A Power of Good in the Twenty-First Century” characterizes its commitment to quality and continuous improvement in its role as one of the nation’s premier historically black Colleges.

ALMA MATER

Where the golden sunshine falls,
Rustling leaves about her,
Breezes whispering round her walls
Stands our Alma Mater.

Students all a sturdy band,
Loud our voices ringing,
Of her kindly helping hand,
Of our love we're singing.

We'll remember in the years
Coming swiftly towards us,
All the smiles but not the tears
Alma Mater brought us.

If the path of life be dim
And the way be dreary,
Alma Mater points to Him,
Who will guide the weary.

(CHORUS)

Alma Mater strong and true,
Alma Mater ever!
Benedict, we sing to you,
Faithful we forever.

ENVIRONMENTAL ETHOS PROJECT

Purpose

Benedict College presents The Five Pillars of Success. The purpose of this environmental ethos project is to affirm the College's historic mission to provide a collegiate environment that cultivates academic achievement, engagement, and persistence among Benedict College students. Through this initiative, we seek to clearly define the core values of Benedict College to our students, the Benedict College family, and our various community partners to acknowledge our sustained commitment to preparing students to be "powers for good in society."

Success = Personal Accountability

Success begins and ends with the individual. Personal accountability entails taking ownership of one's choices and actions. Persons who are accountable do not allow themselves to be victims nor do they seek to cast blame. He or she bears the responsibility of seeking out resources and plausible solutions rather than surrendering to obstacles.

Success = Commitment to Excellence

Excellence is a standard that successful people seek to achieve. Those who are committed to excellence consistently take pride in all they do. Their conduct, appearance, and work reflect the esteem and belief they have in themselves and their abilities.

Success = Effort

"Success is the sum of small efforts, repeated day in and day out." (Robert Collier) Effort is consistent action toward achieving one's goals. In an academic context, effort is attending and preparing for class, completing all assignments, and seeking out additional assistance as needed.

Success = Tiger Pride

Pride is an attitude that separates excellence from mediocrity. Tiger Pride is respect, love and commitment to Benedict College, its legacy, and its future.

Success = Community Engagement

"The true aim of education is not knowledge but action." (Herbert Spencer) Community Engagement is a sense of responsibility to contribute to society through individual and/or collective action to positively impact the community.

THE FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT OF 1974

(FERPA)

Students at Benedict College have the right of privacy with respect to personal information. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA or the Buckley Amendment) is a federal law that governs access to students' educational records, which are records that contain information directly related to a student and are maintained as official working files by the College. Under FERPA, students have the right to gain access to their educational records, and such access includes the right to inspect and review the records, the right to obtain copies of the records (a copying fee may be charged), and the right to challenge or supplement information on file. Public or "directory" information about a student that may be released to anyone upon request includes the student's name, address, telephone listing, academic major, dates of attendance, awards received, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, and weight and height of a member of an athletic team. Students may request that the College not release directory information by completing a FERPA block form in the College's Registrar's Office.

Pursuant to FERPA, once a student reaches 18 years of age or attends a postsecondary institution, parents no longer have access to their children's educational records, unless the student is claimed as a dependent as defined by Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 or the student provides the College written consent to allow such disclosure. The only exception to this rule is in the case of violations of the College's alcohol and drug policies by students under age 21. In such cases, information regarding the violation may be released to parents, regardless of whether the student is considered a dependent or independent student.

In general, the College will not release information contained in a student's educational records to a third party without written consent of the student. Prior written consent from the student is not required under the following circumstances:

- ❖ In the event the College's directory information is published and the student has not requested that such information be withheld.
- ❖ A student is classified as dependent under the Internal Revenue Code, and the parents are requesting information.
- ❖ A student has violated the College's alcohol or drug policies and was under age 21 at the time of the violation, parents can be notified.

- ❖ A College Official with a legitimate educational interest has requested information on the student.
- ❖ In the event, an Official at another Institution in which the student seeks to enroll, has requested information.
- ❖ In the event a health or safety emergency occurs, and it is necessary to protect the student or others.
- ❖ In the event financial aid lenders seek to check the enrollment status for loan purposes.
- ❖ In the event, authorized representatives of the: Secretary of the United States Department of Education, Office of the United States Comptroller General, and State and Local Education authorities request information as part of an audit or program review.
- ❖ In response to a court order and/or subpoena after reasonable effort to notify eligible student (unless ordered not to contact the student by the Court); or
- ❖ In the event an alleged victim of any crime of violence or non-forcible sex offense requests the results of the College's judicial proceedings regarding such an alleged offense.

“DRUG-FREE SCHOOLS AND COMMUNITIES ACT” (PUBLIC LAW

101-226)

The use of illegal drugs and alcohol at the College workplace, on college property or at college activities both on and off campus impairs the safety and health of College community members, inhibits the personal and academic growth of students and undermines the public’s confidence in the College. Only in an environment free of illegal drugs and alcohol abuse can the College fulfill its mission of developing the professional, social, cultural, and intellectual potential of each member of its community. For these reasons, it is the policy of Benedict College that all College activities, College property, and the College workplace must be free of the use of illegal drugs and the abuse of alcohol.

STUDENT RIGHT TO KNOW AND CAMPUS SECURITY ACT (PUBLIC LAW 101-542)

Federal law requires the College to produce an annual report of its safety and security procedures as well as crime statistics. This report is available for review via internet. Additional copies are available in the Campus Police Department. Information regarding graduation rates may be obtained in the Office of Registrar and Student Records. Safety and security information is cited in this Handbook and in the additional publications developed and dispersed by the Campus Police Department.

In particular, the College believes it is highly inappropriate and unprofessional for an employee to engage in a romantic or sexual relationship with a student when the employee and student are working together or the employee is involved with the student in an administrative, coaching, counseling, teaching, supervisory, or other authoritative role. Under certain circumstances, such conduct may result in disciplinary action.

So, we have to make sure we use social media in the right way. This policy is to make sure we keep our community safe when we use social media. We do not want people to be hurt from social media. Social media is often used in the higher education setting and has demonstrated multiple benefits including increase retention, socialization, collaborative learning, student engagement, sense of control and ownership, along with other benefits for students and instructors.

Social Media in Your Personal Life

Benedict College recognizes that many students make use of social media in a personal capacity. While they are not acting on behalf of the College, students must be aware that they can damage Benedict if they are recognized as being one of our students. Students are allowed to say that they attend Benedict, which recognizes that it is natural for its students to sometimes want to discuss their daily activities on social media. However, the students' online profile (for example, the name of a blog or a Twitter name) must not contain Benedict's name. If students do discuss their daily interactions/activities on social media, they must include on their profile a statement along the following lines: "The views I express here are mine alone and do not necessarily reflect the views of Benedict College."

For the purposes of the Benedict College Social Media Policy, social media is any online platform or app that allows parties to communicate instantly with each other or to share data in a public forum. This includes social forums such as Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, Snapchat, TikTok, and LinkedIn. Social media also covers blogs and video and image-sharing websites such as YouTube. Our College community should be aware that there are many more examples of social media than can be listed here as this is a constantly changing area and should follow these guidelines in relation to any social media that they use. Any communications that students make in a personal capacity through social media must not:

- Bring Benedict into disrepute, for example by:
 - criticizing or arguing with peers, professors, staff, or rivals;
 - making defamatory comments about individuals or other organizations or groups; or
 - posting images that are inappropriate or links to inappropriate content;
- Breach confidentiality, for example by:
 - revealing trade secrets or information owned by Benedict College;
 - giving away confidential information about an individual (such as a peer, professor, or coach) or organization; or
 - discussing Benedict's internal workings (e.g.. work study students access and handling of confidential information);
- Breach copyright, for example by:
 - using someone else's images or written content without permission;
 - failing to give acknowledgement where permission has been given to reproduce something; or
- Do anything that could be considered discriminatory against, or bullying or harassment of, any individual, for example by:
 - making offensive or derogatory comments relating to sex, gender reassignment, race (including nationality), disability, sexual orientation, religion or belief or age;
 - using social media to bully another individual (such as an employee of the organization); or
 - posting images that are discriminatory or offensive or links to such content.

Definition of misconduct:

The definition of misconduct at Benedict College is set forth in this Code in order to give students general notice of prohibited conduct and is not designed to define misconduct in exhaustive terms.

Disciplinary action over social media use

All students are required to adhere to this policy. Students should note that any breaches of this policy may lead to disciplinary action. Serious breaches of this policy, for example incidents of bullying or social media activity causing serious damage to the College may constitute misconduct and lead to summary dismissal.

DIVISION OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

The purpose of the Division of Student Affairs is to meet the contemporary needs of Benedict College students. While honoring the College's mission and heritage, the division works to bring the established institution and the changing student body into a productive relationship. The significant part of this relationship is, of course, the classroom. The business of the College is fostering intellectual growth, and students enroll to obtain academic credentials. The priority of the Division of Student Affairs is to complement and supplement the academic enterprise, maintaining both a climate on campus and a range of programs that foster students' academic growth.

It is the responsibility of the Vice President for Student Affairs to ensure that students' social, emotional, intellectual, and physical needs are met in accordance with the policies and procedures outlined in the Benedict College Student Handbook. The Office of Student Affairs is in Suite 100 of the Administration Building and can be reached at (803) 705-4624. A variety of services and programs in the Division of Student Affairs serves the needs and interests of all students enrolled at Benedict College. Student Affairs is comprised of the following areas:

- ❖ Office of Admissions & Recruitment
- ❖ Office of Student Financial Aid & Scholarships
- ❖ Office of Residential Life
- ❖ Office of Student Health Services
- ❖ Office of Campus Police
- ❖ Office of Student Activities
- ❖ Office of Religious Services
- ❖ Food Services

- ❖ Office of Counseling & Self-Development
- ❖ Office of International Programs
- ❖ Office of Upward Bound

The Vice President's Office operates to maintain the welfare of the Campus Community. The Vice President for Student Affairs is responsible for overseeing the following Departments: Admissions & Recruitment, Student Financial Aid & Scholarships, Residential Life, Student Health Services, Campus Police, Student Activities, Religious Services, Food Services, Counseling & Self-Development, International Programs and Upward Bound and facilitating the Student Judiciary Committee, which serves as the central clearinghouse for all non-academic violations. The Student Judiciary Committee hearing process holds students accountable and responsible for inappropriate actions. The Student Judiciary Committee hearing process provides an opportunity for committee members to work with students; promote positive behavior; offer guidance; and steer students towards the goal of academic achievement. The Vice President for Student Affairs is in the Administration Building, Suite 100 and can be reached at (803) 705-4559 or 4624.

DISCIPLINARY PROCESS

Students and student organizations are subject to the disciplinary procedures prescribed in this code contingent on the infraction(s). If a student, allegedly involved in a violation of the Student Conduct Code, separates or graduates from the College prior to a hearing being held, the disciplinary process can continue at the discretion of the College. If a hearing is not pursued upon the separation of the student, the pending charges will be resolved, at the discretion of the College, prior to any future readmission.

- A. Initiation of Charges - The Division of Student Affairs bears the responsibility for the initiation of disciplinary procedures against a student for alleged misconduct which could result in expulsion or suspension from the College. The Division of Student Affairs will review instances of reported misconduct to determine if disciplinary proceedings should be initiated. Any member of the campus community may register a complaint in writing with the Division of Student Affairs against a student for alleged violation of college policy. Students also have an opportunity to register a complaint in writing against another student. In the absence of sufficient information as determined by the Vice President of Student Affairs or designee, a complaint will be dismissed.

- B. Notification of Charges - Once it is determined that disciplinary proceedings will be initiated, the Division of Student Affairs will provide a notification of the charges and a hearing date to the accused student by student's email address, and/or delivery to the student's on-campus or off-campus address as indicated in the most current Student Directory. The Division of Student Affairs may also, but is not required to, provide written notification by hand-delivery to the accused student. Notification will specify the alleged violation of this respective code. Students are responsible for providing the college with proper mailing addresses, checking their email, and mailboxes on a regular basis. The failure of a student to receive notification is not grounds for an appeal, provided the Division of Student Affairs has attempted to provide the student with written notification by either method stated above. Upon receipt of written notification, the accused student should immediately arrange a pre-hearing interview with the Vice President of Student Affairs or designee. Students are responsible for reviewing the judiciary process to ensure that they are sufficiently familiar with the disciplinary procedure in order to adequately prepare and present a response at the hearing.
- C. Failure to Respond
If the student does not respond to the notification of charges and the scheduled hearing, the Student Judiciary Committee will proceed on the scheduled date and time of the hearing. If a student does not attend the scheduled hearing, the hearing will be conducted, and a determination will be made based on the available information. The student is considered properly notified when the formal hearing notification has been delivered to the student by the methods indicated in the Notification of Charges.
- D. Dismissal of Charges
If the Vice President of Student Affairs or designee determines that insufficient information exist to justify a hearing, the charge will be dismissed.
- E. Options for Resolution of Disciplinary Charges - It should be clearly understood that there is a fundamental difference between the nature of student discipline and that of criminal law. Regardless of the options exercised for resolution of charges, the discipline of students within the College community must be consistent with the educational mission of the institution. The letter from the Vice President of Student Affairs or designee shall consist of a written confirmation of the decision and any sanction imposed or the decision to drop the case due to insufficient information. As the College's judiciary process is a disciplinary proceeding and not a criminal prosecution, third-party individuals/organizations seeking to represent the student or case are not approved to attend any judicial hearings, interviews, testimonials, or any other process of the disciplinary process.
- F. HEARING PROCEDURES – Student Judiciary Committee
1. During a hearing, the accused student is entitled to:

- a. Appear in person, hear all information presented and present any relevant information, call witnesses, and ask questions of witnesses present at the hearing.
 - b. Elect not to appear at the hearing, in which case the hearing shall be conducted in the accused student's absence.
 - c. Refuse to answer any questions or make a statement, in which case the hearing authority shall make its decision solely based on information presented at the hearing.
 - d. Challenge the presence of a Student Judiciary Committee member for cause. Cause is defined as personal bias, prior involvement, or inappropriate access to information concerning the incident. The removal of a Student Judiciary Committee member for cause will be at the discretion of the remaining committee members as determined by majority vote.
 - e. All hearing shall be conducted in private session. All students' information, or comments given during hearings are to be held in confidence by members of the Student Judiciary Committee, College Staff, witnesses, and advisers before, during, and after deliberation.
2. The hearing authority will exercise control over the hearing to avoid needless consumption of time, repetition of information, and/or prevent the harassment or intimidation of participants. The hearing can be recessed at any time in the hearing officer's discretion.
 3. All hearings shall be conducted in an informal manner and technical rules of evidence will not be applied. The taking of statements of witnesses may be done by discussion, though the testimony of each witness may be subject to question and rebuttal. Witnesses (except for the accused) shall be present during a hearing only during the time they are testifying. While written statements are admissible, the accused shall have the opportunity to question and rebut the testimony of the principal party, unless extenuating circumstances preclude this option.
 4. The Office of Student of Affairs or designee is responsible for scheduling and coordinating all cases.
 - a. The Committee Chair/Co-Chair, at the request of the Vice President of Student of Affairs or designee, will make a tape recording of all hearings where a student pleads not responsible or when a charged student request it. The accused shall have the right, upon request, to listen to the recording in the presence of a staff member of the Division of Student Affairs.

- b. The letter from the Vice President of Student Affairs shall consist of a written confirmation of the decision and any sanction imposed or the decision to drop the charge due to insufficient information.
- c. Students may not bring tape recorders or other recording devices into the hearing. Video, audio, stenographic, or photographic recording of hearing proceedings are prohibited, except as authorized by the Vice President of Student Affairs or designee. Any recording or other verbatim recording of any hearing in which suspension or expulsion is imposed shall be maintained in the Division of Student Affairs.
- d. As the College's judiciary process is a disciplinary proceeding and not a criminal prosecution, third-party individuals/organizations seeking to represent the student/case are not approved to attend any judicial hearings, interviews, testimonials, or any other process of the disciplinary process.

Procedural Differences

A. Evidence:
State or Federal rules of evidence need not be followed in a campus judicial proceeding.

B. Burden of Proof:
In a criminal court, the charges against a defendant must be proven “beyond a reasonable doubt.” If any reasonable doubt as to whether the defendant committed the crime or not exists, the defendant must be found to be not guilty of the offense charged.

Unlike criminal proceedings in courts of law, College hearings do not require conclusive proof or “guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.” Instead, the “preponderance of the evidence” is sufficient for the hearing officer or committee to decide if a violation has occurred and to impose a sanction.

“Preponderance of evidence” means that the evidence shows that the fact sought to be proved is more probable than not. This is the standard used in adjudicating all disciplinary cases within this Student Conduct Code.

Abuse of the Judicial System or Legal Authority

All members of the College community are expected to fully follow all College regulations and policies, as well as South Carolina and federal laws. They are additionally expected to cooperate fully with all agents of the College in the performance of their duties and to uphold the expectations of the community through individual behavior, as well as not shielding others from the consequences of their actions.

Abuse of the legal system or failure to support legal authority includes, but is not limited to:

- ❖ Violating the Student Code of Conduct
- ❖ Failing to comply with the instructions or directions of college agents acting in their official capacities. This includes members of the residence hall staff
- ❖ Failing to provide truthful information to a judicial body or agent of the College.
- ❖ Failing to produce Benedict College ID for College authorities if requested
- ❖ Failing to obey the summons to provide testimony before a judicial body or agent of the college
- ❖ Disrupting the orderly conduct of a judicial proceeding
- ❖ Knowingly instituting a judicial proceeding without cause
- ❖ Aiding another student in committing an act in violation of the Code of Conduct
- ❖ Attempting to discourage another student's participation in or cooperation with a judicial proceeding
- ❖ Attempting to influence the impartiality of a member of a judicial body
- ❖ Failing to comply with the sanctions imposed by a judicial body or an administrative decision
- ❖ Failing to respect applicable local, state, and federal laws.

Rights of Victims of Alleged Student Misconduct

Throughout his or her involvement in the conduct process, the victim has the following rights:

1. To be informed about what steps can be taken by the victim if the accused, or a third party acting on behalf of the accused, intimidates or harasses the victim.
2. To be informed of the outcome of the conduct proceedings to the extent allowed by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as amended by the Higher Education Amendments of 1998, and the Campus Security Act as Amended by the Higher Education Amendments of 1992. See the section on Release of Disciplinary Information for more details.
3. To provide a victim's impact statement for consideration during the conduct proceedings.

4. To be provided during the formal hearing, whenever practical, a waiting area that does not require the victim to be near the accused or such person's family, friends, or witnesses.
5. When a student appears before the Student Judiciary Committee, he or she has the right to be assisted by in all matters within the College Judicial System by a member of the College Community or the Executive Officers of the Student Government Association. The advisor or Executive Officers of the Student Government Association are to help students prepare a case, but not to present it.

Investigation Procedures:

1. Investigation procedures for rights of victims of alleged student misconduct when the misconduct is a violation of State and Federal laws, is conducted by State and Federal Law Enforcement. The Judiciary Committee relies upon the evidence gathered and shared by Law Enforcement Officials of Benedict College and other State and Federal agencies. This investigative information supplied from Law Enforcement in the form of "Victim Statements", "Victim Impact Statements", "Witness Statements", "Crime Scene Investigation Reports", "Court Documents" and other documents that serve as official fact-finding information is used in investigation procedures for the College's Judiciary Committee.
2. Investigation procedures for rights of victims of alleged student misconduct, when the misconduct is not a violation of State and Federal laws, is conducted by Benedict College's Residential Life Department and the College's Judiciary Committee. This investigative information is received by way of written or oral statements given by witnesses or College Officials to include Faculty and Staff.

Disciplinary Measures and Sanctions

A student disciplinary hearing committee, Student Judiciary Committee, is established to provide a review process representing a cross section of the College, including a peer review. The members of the Student Judiciary Committee are chosen by the Vice President of Student Affairs or the designee. The members range from Faculty, staff, and students. "This peer review process determines student accountability for alleged violations of general student conduct regulations in a manner which ensures fundamental fairness and protects the charged student(s) or student organization(s) from the unfair imposition of severe penalties and sanctions". Disciplinary Measures include the following and are not subject to succession depending on the level of infraction:

1. Oral Reprimand - a verbal warning intended to provide an opportunity to change behavior.
2. Letter of Reprimand - a written statement of the behavior on record which may be used as evidence in case of further infractions.
3. Disciplinary Probation - a letter which stipulates that any further major disciplinary infraction on the part of the student(s) will result in his/her/their suspension. Disciplinary probation may also include restriction and/or restitution.

4. Restriction - the exclusion of the student from enjoying or participating in specified privileged and/or extracurricular activities for a given period.
5. Restitution - the reimbursement for damage to or misappropriation of property. Restitution may take the form of appropriate service or other compensation and may be assessed in addition to other penalties.
6. Suspension - the temporary severance or exclusion of the student from the College for a specified period. The suspended student automatically receives the grade of "W" in each class, and he/she is banned from the campus and its facilities unless written permission is granted by a college official for a specific reason. A suspended student may not participate in any activities sponsored by the College or recognized student organization during his/her suspension. If a student decides to attend another institution while on suspension, his/her grades are non-transferrable to Benedict College.
7. Expulsion - the permanent severance or exclusion of the student from the College.

Reserve Powers

In all institutions involving the security of many persons, key officials are empowered with emergency and/or reserved powers to act upon matters requiring immediate action. The President, Vice President for Student Affairs or designee is such a person at the College. When, in the opinion of the President or Vice President for Student Affairs, the welfare of the College will be adversely affected while awaiting the outcome of the Judiciary or review process, he/she is empowered to resolve the matter in the most expeditious manner.

Immediate Separation of the Student from the Campus

Any student suspended or expelled for disciplinary reasons must vacate the campus within forty-eight (48) hours from the date the notice of suspension or expulsion is presented to the student by email, and/or delivery to the student's on-campus or off-campus address. If an infraction is deemed severe by the Vice President of Student Affairs or designee, the student may be required to vacate campus premises immediately. Students may not return to campus, any College property, or its vicinity during the term of the suspension without prior written permission of the Vice President of Student Affairs or designee.

Appeal Process

A student has the right to request an appeal of disciplinary actions taken by the Student Judiciary Committee at the discretion of the Vice President of Student Affairs. Upon receipt of the outcome of the hearing, a student has two business days (Monday – Friday) to file a written appeal.

A student may appeal only on the following grounds:

1. Evidence of procedural irregularity.
2. Evidence of mitigating circumstances (additional evidence).
3. Evidence of undue severity of sanction.
4. Evidence of bias on the part of the hearing officer or Committee.
5. Evidence that the decision is arbitrary, capricious, or unreasonable, and that the charges are not supported by the evidence.

The student who fails to appear for a disciplinary hearing cannot appeal the sanction rendered unless the student can present clear and convincing evidence of extenuating circumstances that made the attendance impossible.

A student's appeal must comply with the following guidelines:

- * The written appeal must state the grounds and the rationale for claiming that an appeal is warranted.
- * If the appeal does not meet one of the criteria above, the student will be notified in writing that the request for appeal is denied and that the initial decision and sanction will remain in effect.
- * If the appeal meets one of the criteria above, the Vice President for Student Affairs may choose to review the evidence presented and/or remand the case back to the Judiciary Committee for re-evaluation. The student will be notified in writing by the Vice President for Student Affairs of the appeal decision within four working days from receipt date of the appeal request. Upon receipt of the outcome of the hearing, a student has two business days (Monday – Friday) to file a written appeal.

Final Appeal

Students may appeal a disciplinary decision of the Student Judiciary Committee to the Vice President of Student Affairs. The Vice President of Student Affairs shall hold the authority of the final appeal body for cases initiated.

NOTE: In instances where a student fails to comply with the sanctions imposed by the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee, additional and more severe sanctions may be imposed without the benefit of a hearing. Further, a student may not appeal based on not having received proper notice unless he or she notifies the hearing officer or panel prior to the beginning of the hearing that sufficient notice was not received and, in the judgment of the hearing officer or panel, there is a reason to believe that proper notice may not have been given. Students who fail to check their email or mailboxes, fail to pick up correspondence as instructed, or who, due to negligence on their own, fail to receive proper notice, may not use “insufficient notice” as the basis for an appeal.

Disciplinary Records Policy

A Student's disciplinary record is maintained in the Office of Student Affairs. School's policy for the use of this confidential record is governed by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) for colleges and universities.

Class Attendance (Excused Absences)

Students may secure an official excuse for class absences caused by school sponsored extra-curricular activities, personal illness, death in family, severe family illness, and court summons (not incarceration). Excuses may be obtained in the Office of Student Affairs in the Administration Building, Room 100. Satisfactory documentation is required. Satisfactory documentation must be in the form of an "official" document of the issuing agency. That is, an official seal, letterhead and signature must appear on the document. Absolutely no copies will be accepted as satisfactory documentation. Any evidence of alteration of an official document will not be accepted, and the student may be subject to the appropriate disciplinary actions if alteration of the official document is proved. (Notes from relatives, friends, etc., are not accepted as "official" documentation for absences.) The Student Health Center is delegated to issue excuses to students who receive services from the Student Health Center staff based on the students' health assessment.

Student Limited Fire and Theft Assistance Plan

All students are required to purchase a Fire and Theft Assistance Plan. The purpose of this plan is to assist students in recovering the allowable coverage of their individual property on college campus for loss through their property insurance. Students must keep their room doors locked - even if you are going to be "right back." Student must protect their belongings with insurance, either by checking their parent/guardian's homeowner's insurance or purchasing renter's insurance. Note... Benedict College will not be responsible for any individual property due to theft neglective on your behalf. For more information, please visit the Office of Residential Life located in Mather Hall or the Office of the Vice President of Student Affairs located in the Administration building Room 100.

RESIDENTIAL LIFE

MATHER HALL FEMALE ROOM

JENKINS HALL MALE ROOM

Residential Life is passionately committed to the concept that residence halls are to provide a place where students grow, experience the richness of community living and engage in learning outside the classroom. Resident living at Benedict College is designed with the student in mind. The goal is to provide a clean, comfortable, and safe “home” in which the student can live, work, study, and build relationships. Living on campus can give the student a tremendous opportunity to interact with students from many different backgrounds, cultures, and experiences. Also, on campus living provides the proper balance of challenge and support for residents, which allows them to take responsibility for themselves and for their development. It also can allow them to enrich themselves by taking part in many social, intellectual, emotional, physical, cultural, and spiritual events.

Residential Life Philosophy

Living in college housing is one of the special experiences associated with academic growth. While the primary function of Benedict College’s residence halls is to provide students a place to sleep, socialize and study while attending Benedict College, the Residential Life staff at Benedict College is committed to making our residence halls genuine living/learning centers for today's students. Your residence hall is your home, a place to relax and enjoy yourself. It is important, however, that an atmosphere for studying prevails.

You will find that living on campus is unlike any experience you may have had. Residents must be conscience of their behavior and how it may affect others who are living around you. It is toward this end of maintaining this atmosphere that you, as residents, must continually strive. Your tolerance and respect for your fellow students, and regard for standards of good citizenship will assure this atmosphere.

It is the college's philosophy that students are responsible for themselves. This means you, the student, are responsible for knowing and maintaining the college rules and policies. The college staff will enforce the regulations if you fail to do so. It is to your advantage to avoid problems before they begin. An attitude of "How does what I'm doing affect others?" will build a community of residents who regulate themselves, therefore ensuring that everyone's rights are protected.

It is the desire of the Residential Life staff to facilitate the personal development and learning of the students. By planning programs, activities of interest, and by advising and counseling students, we hope to assist you in your personal growth. We encourage you to stop by and talk with your Residential Advisors. The Residential Advisor (RA) is a helper; use him/her to help you in any number of ways. Your RA can help you solve a problem or answer a question about campus life. Your RA can also help make your experience in campus living a rewarding one by encouraging developmental and social activities.

When you occupy a room at Benedict College, you become a member of a unique and interesting community. Learn from this community and give something back to it. You will have the opportunity to meet people of all races and backgrounds. These people have much to offer you, as you have much to share with them. Learn to appreciate the "uniqueness" of the people who live around you. Learn from them; share your life with them. And by the time your stay with us is complete, you will be a different person; more confident and better informed.

Student Housing

The college-housing program sets the stage for student learning by providing a living environment that is conducive to academic pursuits, personal growth, and the development of friendships within each residential area. Because the living experience is an integral part of the educational process, all students except local commuters live on-campus and participate in a college meal plan through the institutions dining services.

The campus residential facilities house approximately 1,597 full-time students. Each residential area has a different staffing pattern but is generally supervised by the Director of Residential Life, Assistant Director of Residential Life, an Area Coordinator, a Residential Life Coordinator and a Residential Life Assistant and a team of Residential Advisors.

Expectations of Benedict College Residents

Consistently agreeable interaction among members of a residential community is dependent upon mutual respect and appreciation. Dependability, competence, and consideration are necessities in the development of a positive community. Residents can establish and maintain respect by functioning as independently and effectively as the resident's ability allows; by being mature and knowledgeable about their own care; by managing time and items in a way that "fits" the schedule; and by treating people as they want and expect to be treated with honesty, fairness, kindness, patience, and respect.

As a resident, you can:

Become more a part of the College community. Studies conducted nationally show that students living in campus residence halls typically perform better academically.

Residents have opportunities for personal growth not available to commuting students. Living on-campus provides an environment designed to help you experience independence.

The residence halls become communities with student involvement. Social and recreational events in the residence halls enable students to live and study together, share experiences, and make friends.

Living in the residence halls makes getting to early morning classes easy and makes late evenings in the library manageable. You do not have to worry about traffic jams or trying to find a parking space. On-campus dining service and laundry room makes living on-campus convenient.

The Office of Residential Life offers many computer options. There is a computer lab that is open to all residents in each residence hall. These computer labs allow you to type papers, etc. without having to walk outside of the residence hall. So, with living on-campus, there is better access to computers.

Student Responsibility for Residential Living

Residence halls promote a cooperative community living environment and teach students to respect the rights of others. Residence halls also recognize the academic atmosphere and protect the health, safety, and security of all residents.

- The right to study, read, relax, and sleep without unreasonable interference, noise or distractions, and the responsibility to help others have this right.
- The right to feel safe in the residence halls as well as have free access to one's room and other facilities in the building, and the responsibility to help ensure the safety for others in the building.
- The right to have respect shown for one's privacy, and the responsibility to respect the privacy of others (outside of probable cause cases).
- The right to have respect shown for one's personal property, and the responsibility
- to respect other's personal property as well as community property.
- The right to live in an area that is free of intimidation, physical or emotional harm, and the responsibility to ensure this right for others
- The right to a clean-living environment, and the responsibility to help keep it clean.
- The right to maintain one's personal beliefs and values, and the responsibility to respect other beliefs and values.

Please keep in mind that an individual's rights end when exercising those rights infringes on others. The residence halls at Benedict College are a place for fun but also a place for studying. In keeping with the mission of Benedict College, the residence halls must have an atmosphere conducive to academic development. Students whose behavior violates the rights of other members of the community may be subject to disciplinary action and/or removal from college housing.

Staffing

The Director of Residential Life or Designee is responsible for comprehensive administration of student housing, which encompasses (a) the process of admission of students to campus housing; (b) the application and assignment process; (c) residential Life staff training and supervision; and (d) departmental decision-making.

The Assistant Director of Residential Life or Designee is responsible for assisting the Director of Residential Life in overall administrative management of the department. He/She directly supervises all residential life staff to include oversight for the paraprofessionals of the department, Residential Advisors, and work-study students. The residence halls are staffed by an Area Coordinator, Residential Life Coordinators, Residential Life Assistants and Residential Advisors (RAs) who are full-time upperclassmen students who reside in the residence hall.

Residential Advisor's Program

The task of the Residential Advisors (RAs) Program is to accommodate student input within regard to policies, procedures, and social functions. Participation assures that the needs of the group are met in an efficacious manner.

RAs must have the willingness to discuss issues, problems, or concerns with student residents, the Director of Residential Life, Assistant Director of Residential Life, Area Coordinator, Residential Life Coordinators, and/or the Residential Life Assistants. The fastest way to destroy a positive community is through gossip and accusations. Issues brought to the attention of residents and staff will be resolved in a manner that considers the needs of the residents and staff and the statutes of the College.

Residents are responsible for assisting in keeping the residence clean and sanitary. Residents must attempt to prevent room odors and unsanitary conditions by assuring that personal hygiene equipment is cleaned, and by having soiled clothes taken to the laundry.

Additional information about the student-housing program, including information about residential guidelines and the student life judicial system, is available in The College Student Handbook.

HOUSING APPLICATION AND AGREEMENT

An individual must be admitted to the College before an application for housing can be accepted. The housing application must be renewed each year. During the specified period for renewal of housing applications, the student is expected to review the “Housing Application and Agreement” and, if he/she desires housing and concurs with the terms and conditions, to review and sign the housing application. Signing the agreement constitutes an agreement by the student to comply with the terms and conditions accompanying the housing assignment.

Application for Housing

1. Housing application should be submitted as soon as a student is accepted for admission to the College. Students must pay an annual housing application fee which is outlined in the Housing Application and Contract to make a room reservation. Room reservations are not a guarantee of a room assignment. The room fee is non-refundable unless a room is unavailable.
2. On-campus housing is provided to all eligible students on a first-come, first-served basis. The preference of students in the room assignment process and roommate choices will be given consideration within reasonable limits. All assigned rooms will be held for (5) days only after the first day of the student’s specific registration date. After which, the room will be assigned to the next eligible person on the waiting list. If a student cannot claim his/her room within the time provided, he/she may apply for an extension, showing justified cause to the Director of Residential Life or designee. Reasonable requests for room changes and reassignments may be made to the Director of Residential Life during the week after registration ends.
3. Room assignments are made for each semester (fall and spring semesters) unless a student plans to terminate enrollment and/or unless a student is suspended or expelled before the semester ends. Financial responsibilities for room charges begin once a student officially registers as a boarding student. No refund of room and board charges will be issued after five weeks of the official residence hall opening date for the semester.
4. While the College provides janitorial service for hallways, bathrooms and public places, students must always accept responsibility for the cleanliness and appearance of their rooms and general environment. All rooms must be kept neat, clean, and in sanitary condition. They may be decorated to suit the taste of residents, but walls may not be defaced, or spray painted by residents.
5. When students vacate their rooms for any reason, they will be held liable for any discrepancies and/or damages discovered in the rooms during the official checkout procedure. The process by which a room is vacated is described below:
 - a. The student requests an inspection of his/her room by the Residential Life Coordinator, Residential Life Assistant, and/or a Residential Advisor.
 - b. Then the student turns in his/her room key to the Residential Life Assistant, or Residential Life Coordinator. The Office of Business Affairs will receive moneys for any charges levied against the student at that time. Any charges remaining unpaid after the student has departed will be added to his/her bill.

- c. The student then requests a copy of the withdrawal form which will indicate whether there are any charges against him/her for damages, losses, etc. (Damages may include breakage of furniture, doors, windows, etc., and defacing of walls or doors. Losses would include any item that has been removed from the room.)

FRAUDULENT APPLICATION OR ELIGIBILITY

If there is any reason to believe that a person or resident has fraudulently gained access to or is no longer eligible for housing, the resident of the unit will be contacted to review the matter. If it is verified that the individual is fraudulently living in the unit, or the resident fails to respond to the inquiry, eviction procedures will begin immediately.

SCHEDULE

Residence halls normally open on the day prior to the beginning of orientation for new students and on the day prior to registration for returning students. They close on the day following the last scheduled class for intercession holidays and at noon on the day following graduation exercises. Unless special permission has been granted by the Director of Residential Life for students who must arrive early or remain late because of College responsibilities. Housing units will not be open to students before or after the established opening and closing times announced.

CHECK IN AND CHECK OUT

Residents are to check in at their respective residence halls. Residents will be issued keys and required to sign a residence hall check-in/check-out record as soon as possible.

Students/roommates are held jointly responsible for all damages to the College facilities, which they occupy. When moving into a room, a student should check carefully and report any damages noticed in the room to the Residential Life Coordinator as soon as possible.

To move out of the residence halls during the semester, you must first obtain clearance from the Office of Residential Life. When the term of the housing/dining agreement has ended, approval is not necessary. However, before you check out at any time you must:

1. Clean room thoroughly-dust, sweep, etc.
2. Empty Trash.
3. Turn down heating/air-conditioning unit
4. Close and lock window(s).
5. Return borrowed items.
6. Remove all belongings from room.
7. Lock room door.
8. Return key
9. Must receive check-out clearance from a Residential Life staff member before leaving the residence by having a final room/living space inspection. Any student failed to do so, is subject to fines that are associated with dirty rooms, damages, etc.

A staff member must inspect the room for damages using the resident's check-in/check-out record. The resident can claim any damages to the room that are attributed solely to the resident. Any damages, which a resident does not attribute to him/herself, will be split between the residents of the room. The Residential Life Coordinator will go through each room after all the residents have checked out to assess damage cost. Damages will then be billed to the resident.

The residents must then return the keys assigned them (room) to their Residential Life Coordinator or Residential Life Assistant. The resident and Residential Life staff person must sign and date the room check-in/check-out record.

Residents who leave at the end of the fall semester must be checked out of their room by assigned date and time.

Residents are responsible for any damage fees assessed following inspection by a professional staff member.

Residents who check out later than their assigned date, either at the end of the fall semester or the end of the academic year, will be charged.

ROOM CHANGES

Residents who desire a change of room or hall must consult with your Residential Life Staff to be considered. The ability to relocate is based upon space limitations and an educational philosophy that residents have tried in good faith to solve any differences. See your Director of Residential Life, Assistant Director of Residential Life, Area Coordinator, and Residential Life Coordinator/Residential Life Assistant if you wish to change rooms.

INSURANCE

It is recommended that students have some type of renter's insurance to cover their property while they are living in the residence hall.

Property insurance

The college is not responsible for personal property that is lost, stolen or damaged at any time or when it is left behind at the time the student vacates the residence hall. Students are encouraged to carry personal property insurance.

KEYS

One room key is issued to each resident at check-in. If a key is lost or needs to be replaced, there will be a charge per key that needs to be replaced.

If you are locked out you may: 1) contact your roommate and/or wait for their arrival, or 2) contact a member of the residence life staff and prepare for a 1-hour max response time. (Unless noted an emergency)

DUPLICATION OF KEYS

Each key is clearly marked "Duplication of Key Prohibited." The renewal of cores and the provisions of keys must be done solely by the Office of Physical Plant. No student, therefore, may take it upon himself/herself to have the key duplicated by any other means or at any other establishment.

In the event a key becomes inoperative through no fault of the student, a new key will be issued without charge. If a key is lost or if the failure of the key to function properly is the fault of the student, a new key will be issued at the student's expense.

The procedure for obtaining duplicates of lost or stolen keys is to be followed in two steps:

1. Reporting the loss of the key to the Residential Life Coordinator or Residential Advisor.
2. Payment to the Office of Business Affairs of the costs of the core/lock and/or New key(s).

If you get locked out of your room, you must contact a Residential Life staff person and show a picture ID to gain access to your room. You are permitted three lockouts per semester. After three lock outs you may then need to meet with the Residential Life Coordinator. In addition to being locked out, there is a (1) hour response time of the Residential Life staff to address the issue.

ROOM FURNISHING

All the residence hall rooms are furnished with beds, mattresses (and mattress covers as appropriate), and chairs. Suites in some residence halls are furnished with dining room and living room furniture. All the furniture in the room must remain in the room. The College will hold students liable for any furniture removed from the room or any damage to the furnishings beyond usual wear and tear.

PUBLIC AREA FURNITURE

Each public lounge in the residence hall is furnished for the use of all residents. As such, all furniture must remain in the lounges. Removal of any of the furnishings from their assigned locations, including lounge furnishings moved into a student's room, is considered theft of college property, and the student(s) involved will be referred for judicial action.

STORAGE

No storage facilities are available for people living in the residence halls.

CABLE

If your television is "cable ready," attach the cable to your TV set and to the receptacle and you will receive cable. The resident is responsible for purchasing the TV cable cord. Premium cable channels are available to you. You must contract directly with Cable for this service.

HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

To make your heating/air-conditioning unit works best, do not place anything in the units, such as potpourri, air fresheners or other items such as these. They only create mold and cause bad odors.

Please keep A/C Units on 72 degrees or above.

Please keep Heating Units on 72 – 76 degrees or below

ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES AND OUTLETS

Due to overloading of electrical circuits, the total wattage of all electrical appliances in use at any one time should not exceed 1800 watts. Refrigerators and microwaves are only authorized for Oak Street Living and Learning Academic Complex and Haskell Street Residence Hall. Refrigerators are only permitted in other residential facilities if the student submits a doctor's excuse to Student Health Services indicating they have a medical condition that requires a refrigerator, and it is approved. Electrical appliances with heating coils are not permitted. Electrical surge protectors are recommended for students who bring their own personal computers, printers, televisions, or stereos. Electrical appliances must be UL-approved and in good working condition. Any multiple outlets must have surge protectors.

Illicit Appliances

Examples of illicit appliances are as follows:

Broiler Ovens, Crock Pots, Deep Fryers, Electric Heaters, Grills, Hot Plates, Rotisserie, and any other electrical cooking appliances.

All unauthorized appliances are subject to be confiscated and the resident may be dismissed from the residence hall.

LAUNDRY ROOM –FEMALE DORM

The laundry facilities are provided for residents only. If you lose money in a machine, or notice a machine needs repairs, please report it to the front desk or office.

It is essential that those using the laundry rooms are considerate of others when using the facilities. Please remember to remove your clothes immediately upon completion of washing and drying cycle. Others may be waiting! Also, when someone is folding clothes on the table, please do not put dirty clothes, hangers, detergent, or bleach on it. Remember to wipe up anything you spill, especially bleach. It can ruin clothes. All who use the facility are responsible for helping keep the laundry rooms clean.

RECREATIONAL EQUIPMENT/GAMES

Recreational equipment is available at the designated area for each Residence Hall for residents to check out with their student ID. Items available must be returned in the specified amount of time. Please contact the front office/desk staff for equipment usage.

SECURITY

Several security features exist in the residence halls, including doors into room that lock automatically when closed, surveillance cameras, and random monitoring by residential staff. Despite the efforts of the Residential Life Office and Department of Campus Police, in the final analysis, security begins with you.

All fire exit doors and wing doors, except for the main lobby, must always be locked. Be sure to take your keys always.

To ensure a safe environment, you should never prop open a fire exit or wing door. Additionally, it is important that all students enter and exit through main lobby doors and ensure that others do the same. If you have a concern with door security, please report it promptly to a member of the Residential Life staff.

*Additionally, it is important to make sure you close your blinds in the evening.

SEARCH POLICY

Because a college is viewed as an educational community with special behavioral requirements, the courts have upheld the College's right to enter and search student rooms and suites with just cause. However, the entry and search must not be done in an arbitrary and capricious manner, which unnecessarily deprives a student of fundamental constitutional protection. The College housing staff will also make periodic inspections of students' rooms and suites for safety and health reasons. Violations observed during routine inspections and/or building evacuations may be referred to the Office Residential Life. The intent of this policy is to provide protection for the rights of each student while at the same time, providing staff members and College officials the means to maintain and protect the educational environment necessary for the College to fulfill its primary purpose.

Rights of Entry

The College reserves the right to enter any room:

- a) With or without notice for the purpose of inspection, maintenance, or repair.
- b) Without notice to or permission of the resident thereof, for the purpose of
 - i. Inspecting for dangerous drugs or narcotics
 - ii. Inspecting for firearms, fireworks, explosives, weapons; or
 - iii. Any other substances, material, or goods the possession of which is a breach of the Housing Agreement, the standards, and regulations of the College
 - iv. Such entry and inspection, however, should be made only when the College has reasonable cause to believe that such items are present in the room and when there is reason to believe that the occupants of the room are in serious physical or psychological distress.

Emergency Entry

A staff member may, without verbal or written authorization from a higher authority, enter a student's room or suite either forcibly or with a building master key in cases of fire, explosion, bomb threats, attempted or suspected suicide, or other situations which calls for the immediate entry in the interest of safety and security both for the residents of the room or suite and the physical plant.

In the event of suspected vandalism, arson, assault, or other violations of major College policy, which may have occurred in a room, Campus Police will be called in to investigate. The results of such an investigation may result in disciplinary action or criminal prosecution.

Authorized Entry

In the case of a known violation of a college policy, a non-residential staff member may request permission to make an authorized entry into a student's room or suite. The request will be made to the Director of Residence Life or designee who will determine the merits of the request and either approve or disapprove the entry.

The staff will then notify those residing in the room that authorization has been obtained to enter the room by use of whatever means necessary. When a room or suite is entered by means of an authorized entry, the purpose will be to make a visual inspection of the room and observed violations may be referred to the Office of Student Affairs. The staff member also may look in the bathroom, in the closet, under the bed and in dressers.

Search and Seizure

The College reserves the right for appropriate officials to search dorms or individual rooms without a written notice whenever there is reasonable suspicion that illegal items are in the room(s), which violate College rules and regulations. Local, state, and federal laws or in cases of emergencies when there is suspicion of danger or injury to individuals or College property. If such property is discovered, the College may confiscate it until proper disposition of the case has been made.

Search Warrant Entry

In those cases where an individual has personal knowledge or other information of a violation of a criminal nature, such as theft or acts of violence, Campus Police are to be contacted. The Campus Police officer will then determine whether sufficient evidence exists to request a search warrant.

HEALTH AND SAFETY INSPECTION

Living conditions that could adversely affect residents' health and safety are prohibited. Residents are responsible for maintaining reasonable standards of cleanliness and safety in their rooms, hallways, lounges, bathrooms, and lobby areas including proper garbage/trash disposal and securing of cable, and electrical wiring. The housing staff reserves the right to inspect rooms to ensure that residents comply with health and safety regulations. Upon vacating a room, the resident must ensure that the space is clean and in condition for the next student to occupy.

The purpose of health and safety inspections is to ensure that each student's room, all common spaces, and public areas of the residence halls are in reasonably clean condition, and that all terms associated with the safety regulations and policies of the College are being met. These inspections are conducted at least once per week.

The Residential Life staff will inspect the general condition of the room, which includes closets, appliances, extension cords, ceilings, and wall hangings. Violations will be noted and called to the attention of the student. Serious violations or failure to remedy the condition may result in loss of housing and other penalties may apply. During the room inspection, Residential Life staff will look for such violations as presence of pets and animals, excessive dirt, open food containers, overloaded outlets and alcohol and drug containers and paraphernalia. However, items seen in the room that are in violations of the Residential Life policies will be confiscated.

Procedure

These inspections are for the life safety of each of our residents and are to begin almost immediately.

1. The date and time of inspections for your residence hall is unannounced. There will be no notification to building residents regarding the time or date of the inspection.
2. The process involves the inspector accessing all occupied rooms and common-use area. There are no exceptions.
3. A copy of the Notice of Violations and/or charge document will be completed by the Residential Life staff and forwarded to the Assistant Director of Residential Life.

The Notice indicates that repairs are necessary. When violations are found, a re-inspection will be conducted approximately seven days after the initial inspection.

COMMON AND PUBLIC AREA DAMAGE/COLLECTIVE FEE POLICY

There are specific acts of damage or vandalism that occur in the residence halls for which the responsible party cannot be identified. The College has a collective fee policy for assessing vandalism and other damage charges. If the responsible party is not established within a specified period, the cost for repair or replacement of the area or item vandalized will be divided equally among all residents of the affected area (an estimate of the damage and cost will be given by Physical Plant including parts and labor). The student will be notified of the charge, and payment must be made within (30) days to the Business Office. Failure to pay damage fees will result in loss of housing and other penalties may apply. Prior to assessment of damage fees, every effort will be made to identify the parties responsible for the damage, including hall meetings and announcements on the bulletin boards. Excessive damage may also result in the loss of housing.

CARE OF ROOMS AND FACILITIES

College property is inventoried according to location and is not to be moved without the expressed written permission of the Director of Residential Life. Vandalism of and graffiti on college property/facilities is prohibited, and students will be held responsible for such damage.

Residents are prohibited from painting rooms. The stacking of beds, or other furniture, on tops of desks and dressers is prohibited.

Students may not alter or add attachments to their rooms. These items include, but are not limited to, room door locks, outside radio and television antennae, additional wiring, window shades, or awnings. Students are responsible for damaged or missing property.

RELEASE FROM CONTRACT

A student wishing to be released from a room and board contract must apply within five weeks from the official opening date of the residence hall.

A student withdrawing from the College, who has filed an application for release from contract, will be released from the room and board contract 24 hours after the application has been received.

A student may be released during a semester for the following reasons:

(a) academic dismissal, (b) disciplinary expulsion from the College, (c) marriage (a copy of the marriage certificate must be filed), (d) induction into military service, (e) health, upon recommendation of the Student Health Service, or (f) death of either parent or legal guardian.

A student who is released from the room portion of the contract is automatically released from the board, social dues, and maintenance fee portions of that contract.

RESIDENCE HALL MEETINGS

Residential Life Coordinators are responsible for holding residence hall meetings monthly. These meetings are designed to keep the residents informed of any policy changes as well as to talk about programs and activities for the residence hall. These meetings are mandatory, and it is the responsibility of every resident to be aware of what takes place at these meetings. The mandatory meetings will be posted in advance. There will, however, be certain meetings throughout the semester that are not mandatory for all residents to attend.

FALSIFICATION OF OFFICIAL INFORMATION

- No student shall alter, replicate, or have in his or her possession an altered College identification card (BC Access Card), nor shall he or she alter, replicate, or enter false information on an official College document.
- No student shall provide false information or fail to provide current information to the College for the purpose of defrauding the College.

IDENTIFICATION CHECKS

IDs must be presented when entering any of the college residence halls. College ID cards must always be carried and must be presented when requested by any College faculty or staff. Transfer of ID cards and/or residence hall stickers is prohibited and can result in loss of housing and dining services.

GUEST POLICY

Only residents and their guests of the same gender are permitted in the residence halls living areas. Students from another residence hall are considered guests as well. You are always expected to accompany guests while they are in the building. You will be held responsible for the behavior of your guests. As a result of the unique nature of a residence hall community, residential students have a high responsibility to other residents. Students who bring guests into this living environment must be willing to assume responsibility for the behavior of their guests. Residents are allowed only two guests per visit.

While you cannot absolutely control another person's behavior, you can control whom you choose to have as a guest. The fact that you are responsible for those you allow visiting should foster more judicious decision-making on your part. It is your responsibility to inform guests of residence hall and College policies and to encourage compliance.

Residents may have overnight guests of the same gender with the prior knowledge and consent of all roommates and the approval of the Residential Life Coordinator. Overnight guests are to be occasional and therefore guests may stay no more than three nights consecutively in one month. Opposite gender guests must visit in the student lounge in accordance with the designated hours for each residence hall. Members of the opposite gender may not be in non-public areas of the residence halls during these designated guest hours.

HOUSING DURING SCHOOL CLOSINGS AND VACATIONS

Room fees do not include these vacation periods. Any students remaining on the campus during vacation periods without authorization will be considered trespassers.

Since the College does not permit students to remain in the residence halls when school is not formally in session, students are not permitted access to the residence halls after closing. Also, the College is not responsible for items left in students' rooms. If a student is unable to go home during the break, he/she must take the responsibility for arranging off-campus temporary accommodations. Because of time constraints necessary to prepare for succeeding obligations, late checkouts are not allowed.

As a rule, residence halls close within 24 hours of the last final exam and by 6:00 p.m. on the day of the last class period before holidays and breaks. Closing and opening dates and times will be posted in advance and all students must conform.

NONCOMPLIANCE WITH AN OFFICIAL REQUEST

No student shall fail to comply with reasonable and lawful requests or directions by members of the faculty, administrative staff, residence Residential Life staff or other employees acting in the performance of their official duties. A request for proper identification from a student is a reasonable expectation.

No student shall fail to answer promptly lawful requests from faculty members or administrative officers of the College.

No student shall intentionally provide false information, verbally or in writing, to faculty or staff members acting in the performance of their official duties.

The student has the responsibility to act in a manner that is conducive to learning by the student and by other students by: being prepared, prompt, attentive and courteous in all academic settings (including classrooms, laboratories, libraries, advising centers, departmental and faculty offices, etc.) and complying with requests made by a faculty or staff member in an academic setting. To maintain fairness and uniformity in the assignment of sanctions for certain first-time offenses the following guideline has been established: disciplinary probation and educational program.

HARRASSMENT, INTIMIDATION, THREATENING OR USE OF FORCE

College Housing/Residence Education prohibits any person, either singly or in concert with others, from willingly causing injury to another, willfully threatening the well-being of another, verbally abusing others, or intimidating others (including College officials and student staff acting in performance of their duties).

Violence to Persons

No student shall engage or attempt to engage in any form of violence directed toward another person or group of people. Responding to violence with violence is a violation of this policy. To maintain fairness and uniformity in the assignment of sanctions for certain first-time offenses the following guideline has been established: disciplinary probation and one semester suspension.

Sexual Misconduct

Student sexual misconduct is defined as unwelcome acts of a sexual nature committed by a student against another student without consent. This includes sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and/or other verbal or physical conduct, including written communications of an intimidating, hostile or offensive nature, or action taken in retaliation for the reporting of such behavior. Student sexual misconduct may include, but is not limited to:

1. Unwelcome touching - either of the victim or when the victim is forced to touch another person's body, directly or through clothing - such as patting, pinching, brushing against the body, attempted or actual kissing or fondling, and any other inappropriate and/or unwelcome touching or feeling.
2. Coerced sexual intercourse (e.g., rape, attempted rape, sodomy, or other sexual acts or misconduct).
3. Unwelcome sexual propositions, invitations, or other pressure for sex.

4. Implied or overt threats of a sexual nature.
5. Making gestures of a sexual nature.
6. Unwelcome sexual remarks about clothing, body, or sexual activities; and humor and jokes about sex that denigrate women or men in general. Acts of physical student sexual misconduct are commonly considered to constitute a form of sexual assault when occurring without consent. To constitute lack of consent, the acts must be committed either by threat, force, intimidation, or using the victim's physical or mental inability (of which the accused was aware or should have been aware) to understand the situation, the consequences of his/her choices, or to express his/her desires.

Weapons

The use or possession of fireworks, firearms, or other dangerous weapons or materials are prohibited. Firearms are defined as any gun, rifle, pistol, or handgun designed to fire bullets, BB's, pellets, or shots regardless of propellant used. Weapons include, but are not limited to, knives, razors, metal knuckles, blackjacks, hatchets, bows and arrows, nunchankas foils, or any explosive or incendiary device.

Windows

Throwing objects, including pouring liquids from windows and/or walkways is prohibited and is grounds for a charge fee and suspension from the residence halls. Residents of a room from which objects are thrown will be held responsible for this conduct.

Objects may not be placed on windowsills as they may fall out or be knocked out of the window accidentally, causing harm and/or damage to persons or property. Sitting on window ledges and leaning out of windows are violations of state and campus fire and safety regulations and are prohibited.

False Reports

Falsely reporting the presence of an unlawful explosive or incendiary device with the intent to mislead, deceive or disrupt the operation of the residence halls; falsely reporting a fire or other emergency; or falsely activating the fire alarm system is strictly prohibited and will result in suspension from the residence halls. Those found in violation of this policy will fully be prosecuted of the law.

When does my Residential Life Coordinator need to be notified of an incident?

The general philosophy of Residential Life is "when in doubt... call." If you have a feeling, you should be calling someone at home about an incident... you should call. Incidents where you should always notify your Residential Life Coordinator include:

1. Student Arrest
2. Suicide Attempt
3. Medical Emergency
4. Building Damage such as fire, serious water damage, power outage, etc.

Resolution Procedures

Any student who feels that he or she has been the victim of student sexual misconduct is encouraged to report the incident and pursue recourse through this Policy. Informal complaints of student sexual misconduct filed under the policy may be verbal or in writing. Formal complaints must be submitted in writing. All complaints should be submitted to the Vice President of Student Affairs. Complaints of student sexual misconduct should be filed as soon as possible following the event or occurrence giving rise to the complaint to insure a complete investigation and prompt resolution of the problem. A complaint filed more than two days after an incident or event generally will not be considered to have been filed in a timely fashion. Complaints will generally be handled expeditiously; however, certain circumstances (e.g., illness, travel, holidays, etc.) may cause delays. Any administrator, supervisor, or other College official to whom a complaint of student sexual misconduct is made or who otherwise is made aware of incidents that might constitute student sexual misconduct, as defined in this Policy, should refer such matters to the Vice President of Student Affairs.

Informal Resolution Procedures

Any student who feels that he or she may have been the victim of acts of student sexual misconduct may file a verbal or written complaint with the Vice President of Student Affairs. Within ten (10) working days of receiving the complaint, the Vice President of Student Affairs will undertake an investigation. Additional staff members may assist in the investigation and will meet with the accuser and such other persons who may be deemed necessary, including the accused. An attempt will be made to complete the investigation and/or consultative process within an additional thirty (30) working days. The primary goal or objective of the informal complaint process is to resolve the conflict. In addition, resolution at the informal complaint process level may include an agreement in which one or more of the parties involved agrees to accept discipline in the form of a warning, censure, probation, or other such disciplinary action as may be warranted by the circumstances of each case, administered by the Vice President of Student Affairs.

To the extent the parties can achieve a satisfactory resolution of the complaint through the informal resolution process; the complaint will be considered resolved. The accused and accuser will receive written notification of the outcome and disposition of the complaint. In those cases, in which a mutually satisfactory resolution of an informal complaint of student sexual misconduct cannot be achieved, either the accused or the accuser may request in writing to advance the complaint to the formal complaint or resolution process. The fact that a complaint of sexual misconduct may be concluded at the request of the accusing party does not preclude the filing of a formal complaint by others, including appropriate College officials. In addition, students who wish to pursue a formal complaint of student sexual misconduct may do so without first filing an informal complaint.

Formal Resolution Procedures

Formal complaints of sexual harassment must be filed in writing with the Vice President of Student Affairs. Upon receipt of a formal complaint, the Vice President of Student Affairs within ten (10) working days of receiving the complaint will undertake a preliminary fact-finding investigation to determine whether further investigation or proceedings appear to be warranted. In those situations, in which the Vice President of Student Affairs determines that the alleged conduct does not fall within the definition of sexual harassment or does not appear to be supported or substantiated, the accuser will be so informed. When the Vice President of Student Affairs determines that there is reasonable evidence to support the complaint, the Vice President of Student Affairs will investigate as described above.

In instances where a formal complaint of student sexual misconduct is made without first filing an informal complaint, the Vice President of Student Affairs will, upon completing an investigation, consult with other appropriate College officials. Formal complaints may be resolved through actions such as a warning, censure, probation, public service and/or educational experience, restitution, suspension, or dismissal as may be warranted by the circumstances and administered by the Vice President of Student Affairs or another appropriate College official. If the accuser and the accused accept the action taken to resolve the complaint, the complaint will be considered resolved. The accused and accuser will receive written notification of the outcome and disposition of the complaint. If either the accuser or the accused rejects the action taken to resolve the complaint, upon written request of either party, the complaint will proceed to the formal hearing process.

1. The Vice President of Student Affairs will forward the complaint to the administrator designated to receive charges against students as provided in the Judicial Process and Procedures. The administrator will immediately refer the charges to the College Judicial Committee without additional investigation. The College Judicial Committee, in addition to the usual procedures specified for Hearings and Procedural Due Process, will observe the following special procedures for charges of student sexual misconduct.
2. The past sexual conduct of either the accused or accuser is not admissible in a hearing or appeal conducted under the Rules & Procedures.
3. Hearings related to charges of student sexual misconduct will be closed, unless both the accused and the accuser agree to admitting observers. If the accused and the accuser agree that observers may be admitted, each may select up to four observers. No hearings of charges related to student sexual misconduct will be open to the College community.
4. All members of the College Judicial Committee are required to hold all information regarding hearings and deliberations confidential in accordance with the Rules & Procedures. In addition, all other persons present at the hearing will be required to sign a statement indicating that each agrees to hold in confidence all statements and evidence presented at the hearing.
5. Any violation of the provisions of the Rules & Procedures shall be subject a student to additional charges. It should be noted that conduct that "harasses or intimidates any person" (including witnesses to a hearing) or "causes physical injury or threatens any person with force or violence" is prohibited.

Penalties

A formal complaint of student misconduct that is referred to the College Hearing Board will be handled in accordance with the provisions of the Rules & Procedures, and persons found guilty of such charges will be subject to the penalties as provided therein, including Censure, Probation, Public Service and/or Educational Experience, Separation and Dismissal, Interim Suspension, and Restitution. Action that results in charges of student misconduct may also subject a student to civil and/or criminal liability under state law, in addition to the sanctions provided by the Rules & Procedures.

Appeals

Any student who is found by the College Judicial Committee to have violated the Student Misconduct Policy may appeal such findings and sanctions to the Vice President for Student Affairs in accordance with the procedures specified in the Student Handbook.

Frivolous or False Charges

The accused, the accuser, and all other parties to a complaint are reminded that it is a violation of Rules & Procedures for any member of the College community to bring charges against a member of the College community that are spurious, or that are intended primarily to harass or maliciously defame, or that are designed to intentionally overburden the adjudicatory system."

Retaliation Prohibited

The accused, the accuser, and all other parties to a complaint are reminded that it is a violation of the Rules & Procedures for any member of the College community to harass or intimidate any person, or to lie in making statements in connection with a charge under the provisions of this policy. The Vice President of Student Affairs will investigate any reported acts of harassment or intimidation, including any act of reprisal, interference, restraint, or penalty - overt or covert - against any student or employee who is a party to a complaint under this policy.

THEFT AND LOSSES

No student shall steal, attempt to steal, or assist in the theft of any money, property or item of value not belonging to him or her.

No student shall illegally use or appropriate any property not belonging to him or her. To maintain fairness and uniformity in the assignment of sanctions for certain first-time offenses the following guideline has been established: (items valued equal to or greater than $25.00) disciplinary probation and one semester suspension.

The College does not assume any responsibility for loss of, damage to, or theft of students' personal property anywhere in the residential facilities, whether by fire, theft, or otherwise nor for the direct or consequential damages arising from loss of, or any interruption of, any utility service provided by Benedict College or any other person or organization in connection with residence services. The student assumes all risk of all such loss. Many family homeowners' insurance policies provide coverage for the students' belongings at college. Residents may wish to consider purchasing additional insurance if their families' policies do not cover their belongings on campus.

Incidents of theft should be reported promptly to both the Offices of Residential Life and Campus Police.

MISSING STUDENT

If a student is reported missing contact your Residential Life Coordinator, Residential Life Assistant, Assistant Director of Residential, the Director of Residential Life and Department of Campus Police.

ILLNESSES/CRISES

If a student becomes ill during a time when the Student Health Center is not open or when they otherwise experience a crisis, the student should contact the person on duty or the Residential Life Coordinator responsible for the residence hall.

EMERGENCIES

Medical Emergencies

For any type of medical emergency:

1. Immediately contact the Department of Campus Police at 253-5400.
2. When you contact Campus Police, give them your name, location, name of injured if known), and the nature of the injury.
3. After notifying Campus Police, contact a member of the Residential Life Staff.

Earthquakes

In the event of an earthquake, you should take the following steps:

1. If you are indoors-stay indoors. Get under a desk or table or stand in a doorway or corner.

Stay clear of windows, bookcases, cabinets, and mirrors until the shaking stops.

2. If you are outdoors-stay outdoors. Get into the open, away from building, trees, walls, and power lines.

Tornado/Severe Weather

A steady tone of the Civil Defense siren or other noise-making devices for a period of 3-5 minutes means that a tornado has been sighted and will probably hit within Columbia or Richland County.

1. If you hear a siren, get a flashlight and a battery-powered radio. Evacuate to the nearest residence hall stairwell or the bathroom.
2. After taking cover listen to the radio for weather updates and all clear signals.

Fire

When you have been alerted by the alarm, shouted warning, or the sensation of smoke or fire, follow the instructions listed below:

- Put on a coat and hard-soled shoes.
- Take a towel with you to put over your face to prevent smoke inhalation.
- If there is smoke in the room, keep low to the floor.

- Before passing through any door, feel the metal doorknob. If it is hot, do not open the door.
- Before opening a door, brace yourself against the door and open it slightly. If heat or smoke is present, close the door and stay in the room.
- If you cannot leave the room, open the window.
- To attract the fire department's attention if you are trapped, hang an object out the window. If there is a phone in your room, call Campus Police (x-5400) and report you are trapped; give the room number and specific location.

All College owned buildings have an evacuation plan.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The Student Activities Department is responsible for planning and coordinating extracurricular activities to meet the needs of students for relaxation and enjoyment during their leisure hours. The Office of Student Activities provides a broad-based program of educational, social, cultural, spiritual, and recreational programs and activities for students, faculty, staff, alumni, and guests on campus. Programs provide out-of-class informal and formal learning opportunities that complement a curricular environment.

Students who wish to participate in activities, join an organization, pursue special interests, or assist in the planning of campus events should contact the Director of Student Activities or an officer or adviser of the respective organization. Activities are held during the week from 6:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. Weekend activities end by 1:00 a.m. For additional information, see the Student Activities Handbook. The Office of Student Activities is located on the first floor of the David H. Swinton Campus Center and can be reached at (803) 705-4408.

Use of the College Name

No student or student organization may use the Benedict College name in connection with a personal or unofficial function if the use of the name may mislead someone into thinking the function is College-sanctioned or sponsored.

No student or student organization has the authority to bind the College or to commit the College to accept responsibility or liability for injuries or damages which may occur at personal or unofficial functions.

College students and student organizations who, without appropriate authority, attempt to bind the College or commit the College to accept responsibility or liability for injuries to persons, damages to property, costs of goods and services, or other obligations -- financial or otherwise -- may be referred for appropriate disciplinary action. The College may also take legal action against any such student or student organization.

Solicitations

Students should receive approval from the Office of Student Activities for any solicitation to be conducted on campus or any solicitations to be made off campus in which the College's name will be used.

Publicity

The announcements, publications, and advertisements of an organization for off-campus coverage by radio, television, newspapers, and other media must be cleared by the Director of Student Activities, who is responsible for getting such information to the Office of Communications for release.

Poster Policy

All posters and flyers must be approved by the Office of Student Activities staff prior to being displayed on the campus.

Day Student Affairs

The Office of Day Student Affairs performs two principal functions: (1) to coordinate and develop programs or activities for non-boarding or commuting students, and (2) to serve as the information link between the non-boarding students and the College. The Director of Student Activities serves as the coordinator of Day Student Affairs, located in the David H. Swinton Campus Center. For additional information call (803) 705-4408.

Campus Organizations

At Benedict College, there are several Greek-lettered fraternities and sororities and related social organizations, in addition to other organizations that have applied for and received charters to operate on campus. Persons wishing to establish a student organization must secure, complete, and file an application for charter with the Office of Student Activities.

Membership in these organizations is open to students in good standing who meet the common-interest objectives of the organization and their internal criteria and standards. Most of the organizations are related to the academic interests of the student. When a student is interested in one of these organizations, the main point of reference should be the faculty advisor in the student's major field of study. Another useful source of information is the Benedict College Catalog, where these organizations are listed under the respective divisions.

STUDENT FINANCIAL AID & SCHOLARSHIPS

The Financial Aid & Scholarships staff is available to advise and assist students with obtaining funds to attend Benedict College. All students attending Benedict are advised to apply for financial aid. Financial aid administrators are available for individual assistance in such areas as grants, scholarships, loans, and work-study. Students who believe their resources are inadequate to meet their educational expenses at Benedict should see a financial aid administrator.

Definition of Financial Aid

Financial aid is any money that helps students attend college. It may include grants, scholarships, loans, savings, job earnings, or help from parents, spouse, family, and friends.

HOW TO APPLY FOR FINANCIAL AID

All students who wish to apply for financial aid (grants, scholarships, loans, or work-study) must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Students can apply online at www.fafsa.gov. Students may contact the Benedict College Office Student Financial Aid & Scholarships for assistance with this application process. Once the application has been processed, the student will receive a Student Aid Report (SAR). This report will be submitted to the Financial Aid Office if Benedict's School Code (0034200) is listed on your application.

Once Financial Aid receives the results of the FAFSA, these results will be reviewed. Some students' applications will be selected for a review called verification: this is where the government randomly selects some student's financial aid information for the school to review. These students will be requested to submit additional documentations before their financial aid award can be processed. Once all necessary documentation is received, the student will be able to get his financial aid processed. Students whose financial aid award includes loan, the student will need to complete the master promissory note, entrance counseling, if a first-time borrower and parent plus if a dependent student. Instructions for completing all required forms are included with the award package.

Financial aid funds (including student loans) will not be applied to the student's account until after the students completes the registration process and if chosen for verification all documents are submitted. All new students who are first time borrowers must attend classes at a minimum of half-time status for 30 days before receiving any loan proceeds. Students will be notified when their financial aid funds (including loans) are disbursed, and (if applicable) when a refund of excess funds is available.

Financial Aid Qualifications

Eligibility for need-based financial aid programs is determined by the cost of attending a college of the student's choice, minus the amount the student and his/her family can reasonably afford

COLLEGE COSTS

- EXPECTED FAMILY CONTRIBUTION

= FINANCIAL AID ELIGIBILITY (OR "NEED")

College Costs

Include tuition, fees, book, travel, and estimated living expenses while at the College.

EXPECTED FAMILY CONTRIBUTION

This is determined from the income, assets, and other information the student the student and his/her family report on the Fee Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The federal methodology formula is used to determine the amount the student and his/her family will be expected to pay.

FINANCIAL AID ELIGIBILITY (OR" NEED")

This represents the maximum amount of financial aid the student is eligible to receive from federal, state, and college programs.

Types of Financial Aid

Once eligibility for financial assistance has been determined, students may be offered one or more types of aid in what is called a Financial Aid Award package. The Financial Aid Award and package may include the following:

SCHOLARSHIP AID

Scholastic achievement, extracurricular accomplishments, financial need, and career objectives are taken into consideration in the scholarship award process. The amount of an award is determined annually. Visit www.benedict.edu for a list of the scholarships available through Benedict College or to students of Benedict College through other sponsoring organizations. In addition, other agencies and clubs offer scholarships for outstanding achievement. Information about scholarships is available in the Office of Student Financial Aid & Scholarships for new and returning students.

GRANT AID

Several grant programs are available for eligible Benedict College Students. Grants need not be repaid.

South Carolina Tuition Grant

Students from the state of SC pursuing their first degree at an eligible SC institution may be eligible to receive a grant from the state of South Carolina based on financial need, as demonstrated by completion of the Free Application for Student Aid (FAFSA). Students must complete the State of South Carolina questions on the FAFSA to receive consideration. The South Carolina Tuition Grant applies only to independent colleges such as Benedict College. The amount of the funds available is announced annually by the SC Tuition Grants Commission. Students can see the eligibility requirements by going to the agency's website at www.sctuitiongrants.com.

LOAN AID

Federal Direct Loans are available to all students, regardless of financial need. Students must attend college at least half-time to be eligible for any type of loan. Remember, these loans must be repaid. There are two types of Federal Direct Loans available: Federal Direct Stafford Loans and Federal Direct Plus Loans. Additional information about federal loan programs are available at www.benedict.edu.

Students who request a loan are required to complete Entrance Loan Counseling before the release of their first student loan. In addition, student loan borrowers are also required to complete Exit Loan Counseling when they withdraw, drop below half-time enrollment, or graduate. This loan counseling is designed to provide information about student loans (i.e. repayment, deferment, forbearance, disbursement, and debt management strategies). This counseling can be completed online at www.mappingyourfuture.org. Regulations require schools to establish a Code of Conduct Policy. You can access our Code of Conduct Policy at www.benedict.edu.

Federal Direct Stafford Loans

Federal Direct Stafford Loans are available to student borrowers at a low, fixed interest rate. There are two types of Federal Stafford Loans:

SUBSIDIZED STAFFORD LOAN

Eligibility is based on financial need. Subsidized loans are available only to undergraduate students. Under this loan program, the student is not required to make payments while he/she is in school at least half-time, and no interest will accumulate during this time. Beginning July 2013, new regulations were enacted which limit a first-time borrower's eligibility for Direct Subsidized Loans to a period not to exceed 150% of the length of the borrower's educational program.

UNSUBSIDIZED STAFFORD LOAN

Eligibility is not based on financial need. Under this loan program, the student is not required to make payments while he/she is in school; however, interest will accumulate if not paid by the borrower.

Students cannot take out Stafford Loans which exceed the cost of their education less financial aid received. Listed below are the maximum Stafford Loan amounts students may borrow, based on grade level:

Grade Level 1	$5,500.00
Grade Level 2	$6,500.00
Grade Level 3 or 4	$7,500.00

The maximum aggregate loan limit for Stafford Loans is $31,000.00 for undergraduate students.

Independent, and dependent students whose parents were denied a parent PLUS loan may be eligible for additional loan amounts in the Unsubsidized Stafford Loan program. Listed below are the maximum additional Unsubsidized Stafford Loan amounts students may borrow, based on grade level.

Grade Level 1 or 2	$6,000.00
Grade Level 3 or 4	$7,000.00

The maximum aggregate additional Stafford Loan limit is $34,500.00 for undergraduate students.

FEDERAL DIRECT PLUS LOANS

Federal Direct PLUS Loans are available for parents of eligible dependent students at a fixed rate. Under the Federal PLUS loan program, students are eligible for their cost of education, minus any financial aid they will receive.

FEDERAL WORK-STUDY

Work-study provides job for students with financial need, as demonstrated on the FAFSA. In addition to work-study jobs on campus, Benedict College offers some off-campus work-study jobs. Students usually work 12 to 20 hours a week. Selection of work-study students will be made by the Office of Student Financial Aid & Scholarships and the department supervisor based on financial need, class schedule, and academic progress of the student.

FINANCIAL RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Students have the right to accept or decline any part of their financial aid award. If the student declines any part of his/her financial aid award, it may affect other aid offered. Students may not receive financial aid from more than one school while enrolled at two or more schools for the same time. Classes the student takes outside of his/her declared program of study does not qualify for most forms of financial aid.

Students must attend college at least half-time (six credit hours) to be considered for most financial aid. Withdrawal from classes or failure to attend all classes may result in a loss or reduction of financial aid and a balance may be due to the College.

It is the student's responsibility to inform The Office of Student Financial Aid & Scholarships of any changes to information provided on the financial aid application.

Financial aid offered to the student is dependent upon the availability of funds. Any change in the availability of funds or a student's academic performance may change the award package.

If a student's financial aid application is estimated or incomplete, the student will be responsible for any changes that may occur if the estimated financial aid indicated is incorrect or the application remains incomplete.

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

Students who already reside in the United States and hold other non-immigrant visas (E2, H2, or L2, for example) are also considered international students.

Permanent residents of the United States, naturalized U.S. citizens, and U.S. citizens residing abroad and attending school outside the United States are not considered international students.

UPWARD BOUND

Benedict College Upward Bound Program

Upward Bound is a federally funded, pre-college program that has existed at Benedict College for more than 40 years. Students are accepted on the premise that they are college-bound and have the potential to successfully matriculate in a post-secondary institution of their choice.

The purpose of the Upward Bound Program is to foster the skills necessary for success in education beyond high school. This project is geared toward students who meet income guidelines and are from families whose parents have not earned a bachelor's degree. Upward Bound is for students who have the academic potential for doing college work but lack the educational preparation and/or resources needed to enter college.

The program is year-round and consists of three components: academic, summer residential, and bridge. The Academic Year Component consists of Saturday sessions on the campus of Benedict College. During the entire project year, students receive individualized instruction in science, mathematics, English, and foreign languages. Students also engage in career, financial aid, academic and personal counseling; tutorials; and a wide variety of enrichment activities to include tours, seminars, and recreational activities.

The Summer Residential Component allows participants to experience college life. All participants live in the dormitory, eat in the campus dining facilities, attend regular classes and activities (like college students), and adhere to the regulations unique to Upward Bound students as prescribed by the program. Adult dormitory supervisors are hired during the summer months to counsel and supervise participants. College students are also hired and act as tutor-counselors and as dormitory assistants.

The Bridge Component is part of the summer residential phase in which participants who have successfully graduated from high school enroll in college courses for college credit during the summer before they enter college. The purpose of the Bridge component is to assist participants with the transition from high school to college. It also gives Upward Bound participants the opportunity to be one step ahead of their non-participant peers.

There are two Upward Bound programs housed on the Benedict College campus. Upward Bound Program I serve 107 students from 5 area target schools which include Airport High School, Brookland-Cayce High School, CA Johnson Preparatory Academy, Fairfield Central High School and WJ Keenan High School. Upward Bound Program II serves 64 students from Camden High School.

CLASS AND CAMPUS RULES

Student Code of Academic Responsibility

Strength of character is as important as academic achievement; therefore, the College expects everyone in the academic community to maintain personal integrity and avoid any conduct designed to gain unfair advantage in obtaining a grade. Academic dishonesty may include but is not limited to plagiarism, cheating, falsification of records, and collusion with others to defraud. Any student found guilty of academic dishonesty will be subject to disciplinary action which may include loss of credit, suspension, or dismissal.

Student Appeal of Final Grade

A student may appeal a final grade in a course if he or she is convinced that the grade issued is not consistent with the quality of his/her work done in the class. A student who appeals a grade must show that the composite of grades and/or credit given for tests, papers, class attendance and participation, and other requirements specified on the course outline is not consistent with the final grade issued in the class. The student is responsible for presenting all work contributing to the final grade. If the instructor has retained any or all the student's work, the instructor is responsible for presenting this work. The instructor must provide a written statement which shows the computation of the grade in question.

All appeals must be initiated no later than the date specified as the last day to change grades and remove Incompletes in the regular academic semester following the semester in which the contested grade is issued. The resolution of the appeal is to be reached by the end of the semester which the appeal is initiated.

The student who wishes to appeal a grade is required to follow the procedure given below.

1. The student sets up a conference with the instructor and presents the evidence that the final grade-received is undeserved.
2. If the student is not satisfied with the results of the conference with the teacher, the student may request a conference with the chair of the department in which the instructor teaches. The Department Chair will arrange a meeting with the student and the instructor. The student must present evidence that the grade received is undeserved, as indicated in paragraph one above. If the department head determines that the grade is undeserved, he/she will so advise the faculty member and recommend that the grade be changed appropriately. The student will be apprised of the department chair's recommendation. If the department chair determines that the grade is just, he/she will apprise the student of this disposition. Copies of the department head's disposition will be forwarded to the Dean.
3. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the conference with the department head and the instructor, the student may set up a conference with the Dean of the school in which the faculty member teaches. The student must present evidence that the grade received is undeserved. If the dean determines that the grade is undeserved, he/she will so advise the faculty member and recommend that the grade be changed appropriately and will apprise the student of the recommendation. If the dean determines that the grade is just, he/she will apprise the student of this disposition. Direct Threat

A "direct threat" is a significant risk of causing substantial harm to the health or safety of the student or others that cannot be eliminated or reduced to an acceptable level through the provision of reasonable accommodations. Complaints not filed within 90 days will be considered on a case-by-case basis. Complaints will then be assigned to an Administrative Department for resolution. Involved parties will have an opportunity to provide additional information to address the matter. A written resolution (if appropriate) will be prepared by the assigned administrator and forwarded to the complainant. If the student who expressed the complaint still feels the complaint has not been adequately resolved, the student may wish to have the complaint heard by the Student Grievance Committee. The student can request a grievance committee meeting through the Office of Student Affairs. Once the Student Grievance Committee determines a resolution, the student has the option to appeal to the Vice President of Student Affairs, where the final determination will rest.

A grievance is a complaint arising out of any alleged unauthorized or unjustified act or decision by a member of the College community that in any way adversely affects the status, rights, or privileges of any student. Grievances are not adjudications or appeals for the judiciary process. The judiciary process is specifically handled by a separate committee, Student Judiciary Committee. BENEDICT COLLEGE INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS POLICY

Introduction

The Intellectual Property Rights Policy at Benedict College is intended to clarify ownership of intellectual property rights, establish an opportunity for commercialization of works, inventions, and discoveries, and provide for equitable distribution of resources, monetary and other benefits accruing from Benedict College exploitation of these works, inventions, and discoveries.

This Intellectual Property Rights Policy at Benedict College is applicable to all faculty (including visiting faculty) and staff, as well as full-time and part-time students at Benedict College.

Definitions (as used in this Policy)

“Intellectual Property” at Benedict College is defined as all materials subject to copyright, patent, trade secret, and/or trademark laws.

Copyright laws protect original works of authorship fixed in a tangible medium of expression. Examples of works that are potentially copyrightable include original writings, works of visual art, musical compositions and recordings, scholarly articles, tests, syllabi, computer programs, photographs, movies and other audiovisual works, dramatic works, compilations, and other artistic creations.

Patent laws protect useful and novel inventions and discoveries, including processes, machines, and articles of manufacture, compositions of matter, product designs, and improvements thereof. Examples of inventions and discoveries that are potentially patentable include computer programs, electronic devices, chemical compositions, manufacturing processes, and pharmaceuticals.

Trademark laws protect words, symbols, logos, names, and other devices (whether registered or not) that are used to identify and distinguish one person's, company's, or institution's goods or services from those of others. Benedict College owns several trademarks including registrations at the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office for the marks BENEDICT COLLEGE®, the Benedict Tiger logo, and the Benedict College Seal.

Trade secret laws protect economically valuable information, including formulas, processes, methods, compilations, techniques, systems, and other matter which is not generally known or reasonably ascertainable, and which is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain secrecy of the information.

"Creator" is defined as the person (being a Benedict College employee or student) or persons who invent, author, or otherwise create the Intellectual Property. Please note that the Creator of Intellectual Property, depending on the circumstances, will not necessarily be the owner of such Intellectual Property.

"Net Adjusted Income" in relation to specific Intellectual Property is defined as equaling the gross revenue received by Benedict College from licensing or exploitation of such Intellectual Property, minus the current and projected expenses that Benedict College deems necessary to defend, enforce, maintain, register, and/or exploit the Intellectual Property.

"Significant Use of Benedict College Facilities or Resources" is the extensive use of Benedict College facilities (e.g., laboratories, studios, etc.) or human resources.

"Significant Use of Benedict College Funds" means funds provided by Benedict College more than $5,000 and used for developing Intellectual Property.

A "Work Made For Hire" is a potentially copyrightable work: (a) prepared by an employee of Benedict College within the scope of the employee's employment, or (b) specially ordered or commissioned by Benedict College as set forth in a written agreement and that falls within one of nine enumerated categories of works that qualify as a "work made for hire" under the U.S. Copyright Act. Under U.S. copyright law, the owner of a Work Made for Hire is considered the employer—not the employee who may have created the work. An employee of Benedict College can include faculty, staff, and students that are employed by Benedict College.

Ownership of Intellectual Property Rights

Intellectual Property may be owned by Benedict College, by the Creator of the Intellectual Property, or by shared ownership. The policy guidelines below are used to determine who owns Intellectual Property that is created by Benedict College faculty, staff, and students:

I. Circumstances Where Benedict College Owns Intellectual Property

Except where specific exemptions are made, Benedict College will own Intellectual Property created by Benedict College employees or students in the following circumstances:

- A Work Made for Hire; or
- Works, inventions, and discoveries within the scope of the employment with Benedict College or resulting from the Significant Use of Benedict College

Facilities or Resources or resulting from the Significant Use of Benedict College Funds. Where a work, invention, or discovery is created within the scope of employment, or through the Significant Use of Benedict College Facilities or Resources or the Significant Use of Benedict College Funds, the Creator agrees to execute any and all written agreements/documents necessary to transfer all right, title, and interest in the work, invention, or discovery to Benedict College; or

- Discoveries, inventions, and works subject to agreements that grant Benedict
- College rights of ownership; or
- Trademarks and other indicia that signify Benedict College as the source of goods or services.

II. Circumstances Where the Creator Owns Intellectual Property

The Creator will own Intellectual Property created where all the following circumstances are met:

- A written agreement does not specifically transfer the rights or ownership in the Intellectual Property to Benedict College or a third party; and
- The discoveries, inventions, or works were made without the Significant Use of Benedict College Facilities or Resources, without the Significant Use of Benedict College Funds, and made outside the scope of employment; and
- The work created is not deemed to be a Work Made for Hire under U.S. copyright law; and
- The Intellectual Property, if a trademark, does not signify Benedict College as the source of goods or services suggest a sponsorship or endorsement by Benedict College where none exists, or otherwise infringe any rights that Benedict College may have.

All Creators at Benedict College will retain any copyrights in the creation of original works textbooks, research papers, and scholarship consistent with copyright laws, except:

- Where performed as a part of contractual obligations or specially commissioned by Benedict College or a third party; or
- When constituting a Work Made for Hire; or
- When created with Significant Use of Benedict College Facilities or Resources, or the Significant Use of Benedict College Funds. However, extensive use of a Benedict College facility ordinarily available to most or all employees and/or students (e.g., library, personal office space, office computers) and used in the creation of original copyrightable works in the nature of textbooks, research papers, and scholarship will not constitute Significant Use of Benedict College Facilities or Resources.

Creators who choose to use materials in which they claim rights, in the course of creating Intellectual Property at Benedict College, will automatically grant Benedict College a free, perpetual, non-exclusive, and irrevocable license for use (including reproduction, distribution, display, performance, preparation of derivative works, and transmission) of such materials and Intellectual Property for educational and research activities.

Benedict College will continue to encourage faculty, staff, and students, whose works, inventions, and discoveries are made on their own time, outside of the scope of their employment, and without the Significant Use of Benedict College Facilities or Resources or the Significant Use of Benedict College Funds, to work with the College to further develop such works, inventions, and discoveries. Works, inventions, and discoveries not owned by Benedict College are considered the property of the Creators and if the Creators choose, they may avail themselves of the opportunity to submit the works, inventions, or discoveries to Benedict College for consideration of possible patenting and/or commercialization and management under terms to be agreed between the Creators and Benedict College.

III. Circumstances Where There is Shared Ownership of Intellectual Property

Benedict College and the Creator may, by written agreement, decide to share ownership of Intellectual Property.

IV. External Sponsorship/Funding

The ownership of Intellectual Property resulting from research that is sponsored or funded (in whole or in part) by the federal government will be governed in accordance with federal law, including the Bayh-Dole Act. The ownership of Intellectual Property resulting from research or activities funded by other third parties will be determined by the agreement in place between Benedict College and the funding source. Where practicable, Benedict College will attempt to ensure that any external sponsorship/funding agreements explicitly enumerate Intellectual Property ownership issues.

Income from Certain Intellectual Property/Revenue Sharing

Benedict College will share revenue that it receives from exploitation of patents or inventions with the inventors of such patents or inventions who are Benedict College employees, or as agreed upon. In some cases, specific provisions of grants or contracts may govern rights and revenue distribution regarding inventions or other Intellectual Property made in connection with sponsored research. As necessary, Benedict College may contract outside persons or organizations for managing, exploiting, enforcing, and/or defending patents or inventions, and any royalty shares of expenses contractually committed to such persons or organizations may be deducted as expenses to calculate Net Adjusted Income.

Distribution of Income from Patents or Inventions

The Office of Sponsored Programs and Research will use the distribution formula listed below as a baseline to calculate and distribute the Net Adjusted Income from each license or other exploitation of the patent or invention. However, the final determination of net distribution will be commensurate with the College resources used to establish, maintain, and exploit such patent or invention.

Subject to final determination of net distribution as discussed above, Net Adjusted Income shall be distributed to persons other than Benedict College as follows:

- 30% to the employee-inventor,

- 10% to the Department(s) that supported the creation of the patent or invention, and 10 % to support the inventor's research group.

In the case of co-inventors, the percentage share allocated to the inventor as listed above shall be subdivided equally among the co-inventors, or as otherwise determined by Benedict College. In some cases, certain laws, regulations or provisions of grants or contracts may require that a lesser share be paid to the inventor, and Benedict College will honor such requirements. Distribution of Net Adjusted Income will occur on an annual basis.

Equity Interest and Income Received from Exploitation of Certain Intellectual Property

Benedict College, in licensing or otherwise exploiting patents or inventions, may elect to accept equity in lieu of cash payments, licensing fees, royalties, or other consideration. Benedict College may also incur the payment of commissions, other fees or charges and other expenses when such equity interests are disposed. All such expenses are considered development expenses to be subtracted from gross revenue in determining the Net Adjusted Income.

Trademarks

Benedict College retains all rights to control the use of its name, trademarks (whether registered or unregistered), and other indicia of Benedict College. This reservation of rights includes use of the Benedict College name, trademarks, and other indicia that is on or in connection with materials not owned or created by Benedict College. Faculty, staff, students, and alumni may not use Benedict College's name, trademarks, and other College indicia in a way that would be likely to suggest sponsorship or endorsement by Benedict College, where none exists. Benedict College reserves the right to prohibit the use of its name, trademarks, and other College indicia in its sole discretion.

Intellectual Property Disclosure, Evaluation, Protection and Commercialization

The Office of Sponsored Programs and Research is responsible for protecting, marketing, negotiating, and licensing of Intellectual Property at Benedict College. To protect the interests of the Creator and Benedict College, all creation of Intellectual Property in which Benedict College or a third-party sponsor may have an ownership interest must be disclosed timely.

Therefore, before notifying outside parties (including sponsors) and for any Intellectual Property in which Benedict College or a sponsor may have an ownership interest, all Creators must submit a complete disclosure form in an approved format to the Office of Sponsored Programs and Research to ascertain if inventions, discoveries, works or other Intellectual Property have commercial value.

The Office of Sponsored Programs and Research will then determine how to protect, develop, market and/or commercialize Intellectual Property on behalf of Benedict College. The Office of Research and Sponsored Programs will provide a timely response to creators and may employ outside evaluators and other consultants to review the disclosure, as well as to assist in the licensing, commercialization, and protection of the Intellectual Property.

Dispute Resolution

Benedict College shall appoint an Intellectual Property Committee ("IPC") consisting of no fewer than three members with a Vice President or designee as the chairperson of the IPC. The IPC shall be responsible for the following:

- Review and recommend resolution on any Intellectual Property issues or disputes
- Decide upon appropriate disposition of Intellectual Property disclosures
- Resolve questions of Intellectual Property ownership
- Recommend expenditures associated with invention royalties
- Review and recommend changes in this Intellectual Property Rights Policy

If a Creator believes that the creation of Intellectual Property was made outside the general scope of his or her duties as an employee at Benedict College, or made without the Significant Use of Benedict College Facilities or Resources or the Significant Use of Benedict College Funds, and does not believe that the rights in the Intellectual Property vest in or must be assigned to Benedict College, the Creator shall, in the disclosure form, request that the IPC determine the respective rights of Benedict College and the Creator. In reviewing the request, the IPC evaluation of the request may be based upon criteria including:

- The circumstances under which the Intellectual Property was created and developed.
- Time overlaps if any, between the Creator's official duties and when the Intellectual Property was created.
- The relationship between the subject-matter of the Intellectual Property and the Creator's scope of employment and job duties; and
- Procedures for patent application and Benedict College's involvement, if any.

Use of Third-Party Copyrighted Material

Benedict College respects the valid intellectual property rights of third parties. Benedict College faculty, staff, and students shall not make reproductions, derivative works, public performances, distributions, or public displays of a work owned by a third party, unless the copyright holder has granted prior written permission, the work is in the public domain, or the use of the work qualifies as "fair use" under the U.S. Copyright Act.

NOTE:

This document may be superseded by legal instrument pertaining to a specific Intellectual Property agreement between the Creator and the authorized representative of the College.
